- Casino St. Moritz assumes no liability for monies or items which are left unsupervised or left behind. Slot reservations are generally only possible for a short period (e.g. during the exchange process) and must be notified in advance to the employees.

Preventing addiction

To guard against the potential of socially harmful consequences due to gaming activity and to prevent this where possible, Swiss casinos are bound to a social policy.

We refer to the Federal Gaming Law (SBG): Article 22 Gaming ban

The casino will exclude those persons from gaming activity, whom the casino, on the basis of their own observations in the Casino or on the basis of information from third parties, knows to be, or assumes to be, in such a position that they:

- a) are heavily indebted or are unable to meet their financial obligations.
- b) are risking gaming stakes, which bear no relationship to their income and assets.
- c) are impairing orderly gaming activity.

The players themselves can apply to the casino for a self-exclusion.

Should the Casino St. Moritz have reasonable grounds for supposing that a patron's income or assets do not permit him/her to play, or permit him/her only limited participation, it may refuse him/her admission. The law requires that this decision be communicated to all other casinos in Switzerland.

Admission may also be refused if the patron is insufficiently cooperative during clarification of his/her financial situation.

Please note the brochure "Got your gambling under control?", which is set up in the Casino St. Moritz.

Slot machines

The maximum winnings from slot machines is CHF 25.000 per Slot machine and game, regardless of the amounts indicated on the machine. The above limitation of winnings shall not apply to the Mystery Jackpot. The Casino St. Moritz reserves the right to take a Slot machine out of service at any time.

Gaming Wagers

Wagers on a credit basis (advances) are forbidden by law. Gaming bids (announcements) are only valid if the stated amount has been paid and if the gaming bid has been repeated loud and clear by the accepting croupier.

Guests must purchase their gaming chips to place stakes.

The wagers must be transacted in valid gaming chips from Casino St. Moritz.

The amount of the minimum and maximum wager for each of the games is displayed at the gaming tables or at the gaming machines.

For the security and benefit of our guests, chips circulated by Casino St. Moritz have no value outside the premises. Action will be taken against misuse.

In the event of any disputes with gaming activity or credit winning at the Slot machines, the Casino St. Moritz reserves the right, to withhold payments until the situation has been clarified
